

Talks and Other Activities

We are able to offer talks on the following subjects:

- Merton Priory

Built over 900 years ago the priory was the richest in Surrey. This talk shows you how the Priory has influenced our lives today.

- Ghost Trains of Merton

Learn about the railways that existed over the last 150 years in the Merton area and have now disappeared. Find about their role, purpose and legacy.

- William Morris

Morris was a renowned artist, textile designer, poet, novelist, translator and Socialist pioneer. Discover more about his life and work.

- Merton Abbey Mills

With a history that goes back to the early 1700s, this location had a rich textile printing past, including Liberty's of London.

- Mills of the River Wandle

With around 50 mills and a number of different industries the talk covers over 400 years of history.

- Lavender Industries of Mitcham

The lavender industry was a massive part of Mitcham during the 18th and 19th centuries. Potter and Moore were one of the best known firms in the area.

- Brewing along the Wandle Valley

While Young's was the best known name associated with Wandsworth, there were many other brewers and there is a good local revival.

- Surrey Iron Railway

This was the country's first public railway, and parts of the route can still be located today.

- The Calico People

A look at the rise and fall of the River's Calico industries, and the people associated during its 300 year history.

- The Wandle Portrayed in Art and Literature

This illustrated talk looks at how artists and writers have been inspired to paint and write about the River Wandle. Looking back over the centuries it brings us up to date on how people today are still captured by the beauty of the Wandle Valley.

- People and Families of the Wandle Valley

The River Wandle has long been an attraction to individuals and their families. Some have come to work and have their business on the banks of the river others have decided to live by the river. This talk tells the story of some famous names and those lesser known people who have lived and worked in the Wandle Valley.

- Water and Disputes

This talk is about the historical aspects of the River Wandle and not the geology of the river. It will look at the changing face of the river from its tributaries, what it was used for and how it has changed.

- From Industry to Homes

The visual aspect and use of the River Wandle has changed from industrial use to pleasure. In this talk we look at the changed face of the landscape of the Wandle Valley from countryside to housing estates and from mills to homes.

Guided Walks

We are able to also offer guided walks along the River Wandle looking at the various historical sites on the route. These can be tailored to your needs and area.

Textile Workshop

We are able to run a textile workshop showing the printing method used by many of the textile works along the Wandle Valley including the Morris Works and the Liberty Print Works. You get the opportunity to make your own print. There is a charge for this session.

Talks and walks are provided free of charge but donations to the museum are welcomed.
